What is Dysphagia?

Some people have trouble swallowing when eating solid food and/or drinking liquids. When you have trouble swallowing, this is called 'dysphagia' (sounds like dis-fay-jah).

Signs of dysphagia include coughing, choking, gurgly voice, throat clearing, runny nose, teary eyes, increased trouble breathing, unexplained rise in body temperature, the feeling of food being stuck in your throat when you eat, leftover food in your mouth after swallowing, and/or trouble starting your swallow. Please note, however, that not everyone who has dysphagia shows these signs.

When you have dysphagia, you might need to change what and how you eat to make swallowing easier and safer.

A swallowing problem could cause food or liquid to go into the lungs. This is called 'aspiration' (sounds like ass-per-ay-shun). If you aspirate, you could get a lung infection such as pneumonia (sounds like new-moan-yah).

Which food texture is safest for me?

We recommend you have a 'Dysphagia Minced' diet. This means all foods should be minced, mashed, very soft, or finely grated. Minced foods should not need much chewing.

Other diet recommendations:

What can I do to help make swallowing easier?

- Keep distractions to a minimum by eating in a calm and quiet place.
- Remember to swallow before talking.
- Sit upright while eating.
- Take small bites and sips.
- Eat and drink slowly.
- Swallow your mouthful completely before taking another bite or sip. You might need extra swallows for each bite or sip.
- Moisten foods by adding the following:
 - smooth gravy or sauce
 - butter, margarine, or oil
 - mayonnaise, sour cream, or yogurt

Foods you need to avoid

A. Foods of mixed consistencies:

These are foods that have both a solid and liquid component. Because of this, they are more difficult to swallow.

Some examples include:

- broth-based or cream-based soups with pieces of meat or vegetables
(Examples: chicken noodle, cream of mushroom)
- dry cereal with milk
(Examples: Rice Krispies®, Raisin Bran®)
- canned fruit in juice or syrup
(Example: fruit cocktail)

B. Sticky foods

These foods can stick to the roof of your mouth and are hard to push down with your tongue.

Some examples include:

- peanut butter, cream cheese, cheese spread
- toffee, caramel, jube-jubes, hard candy, chewing gum
- pizza, bagels
- dried fruit

C. Dry, crumbly, and crunchy foods:

These foods fall apart easily and can cause coughing and/or choking.

Some examples include:

- any bread or baked products that are dry, hard or contain hard and dry ingredients
(Examples: toast, cookies, crackers, scones, muffins, whole grain and multigrain bread, English muffins, croissants)
- dry cereals, including granola or muesli
- rice, couscous, quinoa
- popcorn, pretzels
- crackers, potato chips, taco chips or shells
- coconut, nuts, seeds
- raw vegetables
