Common questions about HIV and Hepatitis C

Can HIV be managed like other chronic diseases?

Yes.

Today's HIV medications and treatments have greatly changed the impact of the infection and its spread to others.

People living with HIV can enjoy healthy lives.

They can easily manage their HIV with daily medication, regular visits with health care providers and a healthy lifestyle (e.g., exercise, good sleep, no smoking).

Is there a cure for Hepatitis C?

New treatments for Hepatitis C help many people clear the infection from their system.

However, people still need to take care of their health and get regular health checks.
